Implementing PBL:

Make it Matter!

Ideas

- Know is good, think is better
- Questions lead to more questions
- Value of content is obvious

Effort

- Collaboration essential
- Choice is genuine
- Student own it

Work

- Problems are real
- Products are valuable
- Connected to community

@melindak

Make It Matter - Design Rubric

What does it mean for my students to understand this topic in ways that are relevant, authentic, and give them power as learners?

Ideas that matter

How does student work address big ideas central to learning in this area?

Nailed it!	Ready to implement	Needs more work	Comments
Student work demonstrates depth	Students work demonstrates	Builds student understanding in of understanding and high levels	content knowledge through the	areas of the discipline that have of thinking that address big ideas	application of higher-order	questionable importance. Focus central to the standards, giving	thinking skills.	on correct facts, but not little meaning and importance to facts.		analysis or application.

Work that matters

How does student work matter to the world we live in now or in the future?

Nailed it!	Ready to implement	Needs more work	Comments
Task connects to student's	Student work is targeted for an	Task does not evoke student nonacademic lives and is "worth	audience beyond the classroom.	interest or experience. Student doing." Student work results in a	Student work reflects or	work is based on events or issues product/solution that has value to	addresses tasks done by someone	that have already been solved or world beyond the classroom.	outside of the classroom.	resolved.

Effort that matters

Do students have agency during the process? Why would they want to do this work and do it well?

Nailed it!	Ready to implement	Needs more work	Comments
Process transfers responsibility for	Process includes some options for	Choice is limited or learning and success to the	student choice and agency. Task	predetermined.
student(s). Work reflects	provides options for diverse personality of creator(s).	responses.		